PURLAND POWER PACK

Introduction

Welcome to Purland Power Pack!

Hi, I'm Matt Purland, author of all the material in PPP. This folder contains all the worksheets, books, and other printable teaching resources that I have written, from 2002 up to now. I never thought when I first started writing downloadable worksheets for my first educational website that I would eventually amass over 2,000 pdf files, comprising many thousands of pages of printable material, but here they all are!

I hope this pack will prove really useful to you – whether you are a teacher or student of English. Like a power pack when your phone battery dies, this body of work is sure to be a valuable backup – providing ideas and lesson material when all else has failed. I'm sure you will find plenty here to inspire you and your students – to spark discussion and debate in the classroom; to create light where there was darkness concerning particular grammar or pronunciation points, and to help make learning English enjoyable and fun again – rather than stale and boring.

I would love to hear your feedback regarding PPP, so please do feel free to get in touch with me here:

info@purlandtraining.com

With best wishes to you, wherever you are in your journey teaching or learning English.

May you keep on progressing in English and never stop learning!

Kind regards

Matt Purland

Further Information

Answers

The material in PPP may be used by teachers in the classroom or given as homework; alternatively, students may wish to use it for self-study or learning with a partner or small group. This is possible because all the worksheets have answers. Many of the worksheets have an answer page which is attached, while the answers for worksheets that are taken from a book – e.g. 'Big Grammar Book' – can be found at the back of that book. For ease of use, you will find a separate folder containing all answer sections from the relevant books.

How to use this folder

1. Save the PPP folder to your computer or device. Open the folder and click index.html
2. pdf files open with a pdf viewer, e.g. Adobe Acrobat Reader DC, which is available here: <https://get.adobe.com/uk/reader/>
3. jpg and png files open with any image viewer
4. pptx files open with Microsoft PowerPoint or OpenOffice.org, among others
5. html files open with your default browser
6. Searching for a particular resource: the material in this folder covers a huge range of different topics. Try searching for a topic by using the search box in the main folder or in each subfolder. For example, if you are looking for material connected with 'intonation', you could type 'intonation' in the search box in the first folder and you would find four worksheets on this topic – three at Elementary level and one at Intermediate level. You could also search using the Ctrl-F (PC) / Command-F (Mac) shortcut on your keyboard
