

PURLANDTRAINING.COM

Grammar – Adverbs

Adverbs of Time: Already, Yet, Still, Any More – Exercise 4

Cut out each strip and mix them up on the table. SS choose a random strip and say or write the sentence, then add further information, e.g. time, place, adjectives, a second clause, etc. For example:

I have already had lunch at work. > I have already had a big lunch at work, so I don't fancy fish and chips now.

You could make it more difficult by cutting out all the squares and mixing them up for SS to put together:

1.	arrive	car	pa / perf	-	wash	still
2.	pick	any more	?	fu / sim	strawberries	farm
3.	+	barbecue	already	meat	fu / perf / cn	prepare
4.	yet	serve	luckily	pr / perf (passive)	dinner	-
5.	Mike	pa / sim	ex	love	?	still
6.	any more	-	imperative	auntie	bother	please
7.	pay for	already	kitchen	new	-	fu / perf
8.	?	rota	speak	Kevin	pa / sim (AmE)	yet
9.	fu / con	motorhome	+	still	live	probably
10.	Mercedes	pa / perf / cn	-	drive	brother's	any more

Grammar – Adverbs

Adverbs of Time: Already, Yet, Still, Any More – Exercise 4

Answers will vary. Suggested answers:

1. He still hadn't washed the car when we arrived.
2. Will Chloe pick strawberries at the farm any more?
3. We will have already been preparing the meat for the barbecue.
4. Luckily, dinner hasn't been served yet.
5. Did Mike still love his ex?
6. Please don't bother your auntie any more.
7. They won't have already paid for their new kitchen.
8. Did you speak to Kevin about the rota yet?
9. He will probably still be living in a motorhome.
10. Jim hadn't been driving his brother's Mercedes any more.